

IN A NUTSHELL

As high as the stars in quality.

As low as the resources of the world's largest shoe store can make them in price.

There is the secret of CAMMEYER Shoes in a nutshell!

We have waited fifty-two years to convert some people to Cammeyer Shoes, but the number of those not wearing them is decreasing every day. Merit is winning!

"CAMMEYER"
STAMPED ON A SHOE
MEANS STANDARD OF MERIT
6th Ave. at 20th St. 381-5th Ave.

ARMY OF BELGIANS
RESUMES ACTIVITY

Advances Across Yser and Takes Farm from Germans—Artillery Effective.

London, Feb. 28.—The Belgian army, reorganized and re-equipped, has again been taking part in the fight for the recovery of its country, and, according to the French report, has advanced across the Yser and taken a farm from the Germans, while its artillery has demolished two German works.

Meanwhile, the battles in the west are still confined to the Champagne and the Vosges, where both sides claim to have been successful.

DISAVOW CHESTERTON.

British Embassy Intent on Preserving Strict Neutrality.

Washington, Feb. 28.—This statement was issued by the British Embassy to-night: "Mr. Chesterton, who, as is announced in the press, is to attend a meeting in New York, has no connection whatever with the British government, which would in no circumstances approve of any action taken by him there, and which has no knowledge of his lecturing in the United States."

It was explained at the embassy to-night that the objection to any misrepresentation as to the status of Cecil Chesterton was based on the desire of the embassy that President Wilson's views on neutrality be stated in a clear and unambiguous manner. The embassy did not disavow Mr. Chesterton, but it must be clearly understood, it was said, that the sanction of his majesty's government did not attach to any propaganda of British policy in the United States.

Cecil Chesterton is billed to speak for England against Dr. Edmund Wood, a German agent, in a debate on "The War and What Caused It" at Carnegie Hall on Tuesday, March 2, at 8:30 p. m. Alexander Irvine will be chairman for England and George Sylvester Viereck for Germany. The occasion is advertised as a friendly debate in the interests of universal peace.

At the Prince George Hotel, 14 East Twenty-eighth Street, where Mr. Chesterton is staying, it was said to-night that he left there yesterday and was not expected to return until Friday.

LIKES HIS JACKET STRAIT

Edelson, Brother of "Becky," Freed, Only To Be Rearrested.

More "island" and more stratagem are coming to Julius Edelson, who says he is a brother of "Becky," the famous W. W. hunger striker. Julius spent ten days in the penitentiary, most of that time bound up in straps and chains because he tried to beat up everybody who came near him. Yesterday he was released, only to be rearrested. For two days Edelson was kept under observation at Bellevue. He was pronounced sane and sent to the island. He was released yesterday. He was taken to the East Sixty-seventh Street Station, still in a straitjacket, and charged with assaulting a patrolman. He will be arraigned to-day.

BALD? THEN STUDY MUSIC

Boston Doctor Says Harmony Makes the Hair Grow.

By Telegram to the Tribune.—Boston, Feb. 28.—Dr. R. Kenrick Smith, a prominent Back Bay physician, says that the loss of hair, the tranquillity, the peace, the harmony and the joy of music is what makes musical hair grow long, and prevents them from getting bald headed.

Dr. Smith says: "If a man's hair is falling out, he should know some music. It is not perfectly logical to assume that the opposite extreme, that is, the tranquillity, peace, harmony and joy of music, would tend to produce an opposite result."

An expert statistician, after months of labor, announces that only one of every hundred devotees of music is bald, while in every other profession, even in every other hundred, the habit of listening to music is always brushing the hair backward.

"Professional men, as a rule, are bald, and it is not surprising that slaves to their barbers that they keep it plastered down smoothly. Wearing light, stiff, hard-tipped hair brushes, they still further and bound to the hair of the head in a firm, vice-like pressure.

"The musician whose hair is brushed incessantly backward always has a better chance of running his fingers through it, which stimulates healthy activity and circulation in the scalp."

CAR EDICT RAISES HOPES

States Island Looks to Goldwater's Plan for Relief.

States Islanders are rejoicing over the intended campaign of Health Commissioner Goldwater against overcrowded trolley cars, and will petition the Commissioner to extend his activities as soon as the cars during Commuter hours are crowded to overflowing.

SAYS LAW MUST
FREE CONTRACTS
OF ALIEN CLAUSE

Expert Fears Repeal of Act Means No End to Subway Troubles.

UNION LAWYER SEES
WHITMAN IN DANGER

Governor Will Run Into Hornet Nest and Not White House, Is O'Leary's Warning.

Repeal of the alien labor law is not the only step the Legislature must take to aid the present subway situation. It must go further and do something to strike out the alien labor clause in the present contracts. This was the argument made yesterday.

That the law would be repealed within ten days was the prophecy of a man with his fingers on the pulse of the Legislature. On its heels came the declaration that Governor Whitman would "stir up a hornet's nest" if he induced the change. This was made by Jeremiah A. O'Leary, counsel for John Gill, of the Bricklayers' Union, who made the test case out of which the Court of Appeals decision arose.

"The repeal would affect all future contracts, but how will it affect the existing contracts?" said a man who has studied the alien labor case ever since it came up. "There won't cure the trouble. The Legislature must pass an act striking out the alien clause in the contracts that now apply. Otherwise the contracts might have to be abrogated and advertised for again. And then think of the complications that would ensue, and the delay."

"There is a precedent, I think," he continued. "The City of New York has changed the face of contracts, if I am not mistaken. I believe it was in 1902, after the eight-hour law went into effect, that John R. McDonald was building the Jerome Park Reservoir, part of the Croton Aqueduct. He was working on a ten-hour basis. One way to have solved the problem would have been for the city to pay a great deal of money. But the unions got together, I think, and had the Legislature change the terms of the law."

Labor Will Fight, Says O'Leary. Mr. O'Leary prophesied that the labor unions would energetically fight any attempt to repeal the law. "I think," O'Leary said, "the Governor is handling a very dangerous question. He is putting himself in great political danger not only in New York State, but all over the nation. It is said he has ideas of 1910. This question of alien labor is a burning issue in the West. It has been up in Arizona, California and several other Western States."

"The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

"Now, this is where the question of the standard of living comes in. The American workman is self-respecting. He has a family he wishes to educate. He must have a home and something to eat. The Italian's family is often in Italy. He lives off his family. The padrone system, huddled up four or five in a room, and eating practically nothing, so far as the cost is concerned."

Pay Is Nigger in Woodpile. "The allegation of the contractors is a libel on the American workman," Mr. O'Leary continued.

Mr. O'Leary continued: "The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

"The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

Pay Is Nigger in Woodpile. "The allegation of the contractors is a libel on the American workman," Mr. O'Leary continued.

Mr. O'Leary continued: "The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

"The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

Pay Is Nigger in Woodpile. "The allegation of the contractors is a libel on the American workman," Mr. O'Leary continued.

Mr. O'Leary continued: "The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

"The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

Pay Is Nigger in Woodpile. "The allegation of the contractors is a libel on the American workman," Mr. O'Leary continued.

Mr. O'Leary continued: "The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

"The contractors say they can't get Americans to dig. In the first place, they are not acting in good faith when they say that. The digging is practically finished. The argument does apply to the large canal and the aqueduct. They need men to dig, I'm told. The real trouble with the subway contractors is they can get Americans to dig, but they can't hire them for $125 a day. The union rate is $25."

Pay Is Nigger in Woodpile. "The allegation of the contractors is a libel on the American workman," Mr. O'Leary continued.

NAVY CRUISES
FACE SEA AGAIN

Yard Officials Relieved as "Baby White Elephants" Sail.

PAIR OF DESTROYERS
ILL-STARRED CRAFT

Boats Have Spent Eighteen Months in Three Years at Repair Dock.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Application will be made to the United States Supreme Court to-morrow to expedite the hearing on the appeal of the anti-alien law decision, which recently was declared constitutional in New York. Ex-Lieutenant Governor Thomas F. Conway, representing William M. Heim, a taxpayer, George Coleman representing the Public Service Commission, and Edward M. Grout, representing one of the contractors, will appear before the court and ask a speedy decision, pointing out that more than eighty contracts, involving the expenditure of $800,000,000, are dependent on it.

Messrs. Conway, Coleman and Grout will ask that the decision of the New York court be reversed on the ground that the law is a violation of the Constitution and of treaty rights of other governments.

STATE POLICE KILL
MOTOR TOWN RIOTER

Trooper Mortally Wounded in Langeloth, Penn., Established by New Yorker.

Washington, Feb. 28.—A desperado, supposed to be Charles Smith, thirty-three years old, is dead. State Trooper Charles Nicholson is dying in a Pittsburgh hospital and several citizens are suffering from minor wounds as a result of a pitched battle following a riot on the outskirts of the manufacturing town of Langeloth, near here, the model town, to which the late Jacob Langeloth, of New York, left a hundred thousand dollars.

Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

NAVY CRUISES
FACE SEA AGAIN

Yard Officials Relieved as "Baby White Elephants" Sail.

PAIR OF DESTROYERS
ILL-STARRED CRAFT

Boats Have Spent Eighteen Months in Three Years at Repair Dock.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Application will be made to the United States Supreme Court to-morrow to expedite the hearing on the appeal of the anti-alien law decision, which recently was declared constitutional in New York. Ex-Lieutenant Governor Thomas F. Conway, representing William M. Heim, a taxpayer, George Coleman representing the Public Service Commission, and Edward M. Grout, representing one of the contractors, will appear before the court and ask a speedy decision, pointing out that more than eighty contracts, involving the expenditure of $800,000,000, are dependent on it.

Messrs. Conway, Coleman and Grout will ask that the decision of the New York court be reversed on the ground that the law is a violation of the Constitution and of treaty rights of other governments.

STATE POLICE KILL MOTOR TOWN RIOTER Trooper Mortally Wounded in Langeloth, Penn., Established by New Yorker.

Washington, Feb. 28.—A desperado, supposed to be Charles Smith, thirty-three years old, is dead. State Trooper Charles Nicholson is dying in a Pittsburgh hospital and several citizens are suffering from minor wounds as a result of a pitched battle following a riot on the outskirts of the manufacturing town of Langeloth, near here, the model town, to which the late Jacob Langeloth, of New York, left a hundred thousand dollars.

Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on the scene, armed with two heavy revolvers, and started firing on the troopers.

For a distance of nearly a mile the chase continued until Smith was brought down with several bullets through the lungs. Early this morning state troopers were called to a foreign settlement near Langeloth, where a general fight had started as a result of a drunken foreigner attacking a woman with a poker and beating her almost to death. After getting the fight under control, Corporal Maik and Trooper Nicholson and McCormick started on a search for the man who had made the assault. Suddenly Smith appeared on